Beignets are back and better than ever! The Café du Monde started frying again on October 19th of 2005, after being closed for the longest period in our history.

Hurricane Katrina dealt a devastating blow to our beloved city, but we won't let her keep us down. We are happy to present our 2006-2007 catalog, and look forward to the rebuilding of a greater New Orleans. Ya'll come on down and visit us soon!

In the land of people who live to eat, not eat to live, beignets are considered serious business. The square, holeless, puffy French doughnuts are covered in powdered sugar and very hard to resist. A craving can occur at any time, which is why Café Du Monde is open 24 hours a day, 364 days a year. Be sure to check our website for beignet making tips!

Café Du Monde has been a part of the rich New Orleans tradition serving locals and tourists since 1862. Our unique coffee is blended with chicory and served “café au lait” — half coffee and half milk. Any New Orleanian can tell you that chicory, the roasted root of the endive plant, makes coffee as good as it gets!
